Hand-selected for their balance of quality and price, we think these food-friendly wines are perfect for holiday gatherings and everyday enjoyment.

Garzon
Tannat
Uruguay

The palate is generous and expressive with a plethora of ripe, juicy black fruits and a clean, pure mineral expression. Tannins are medium plus but really approachable and well-balanced by a beautiful fruit.

Fossil Point Chardonnay California

Stainless steel and neutral oak. Quite fruit driven, this vintage displays Meyer lemon and Asian pear tones, balanced by light vanilla and pastry crème. Chicken from the grill would be a nice pairing.

~~$14.99~~..now $13.99

Paul Anheuser Blanc de Noir Germany

Made from clear-run juice, which is classified as a white wine. This has appealing Pinot Noir flavors - cherry and strawberry - all in a white wine! Tasty with chicken salad or salmon.

~~$14.99~~..now $12.99

Elicio Vermentino France

Offering tropical fruit, lychee and orange blossom along with a slight salinity. On the palate, citrus, light minerality, and a crisp clean finish. Very friendly with lighter foods and appetizers.

~~$12.99~~..now $9.99

Jongieux Savoie France

Jacquere grapes. Light and crisp with aromas of tropical fruit. Green apple on the palate with a slight mineral finish complimented by just a touch of effervescence to make this refreshing. Pair with fish or light cheese

~~$12.99~~..now $11.99

Di Majo Norante Sangiovese Italy

Spicy red berries, licorice and dried flowers on the nose. Flavors of raspberry, smoky oak, spices and peppery underbrush. The finish is substantial but smooth. Pasta or pizza for dinner?
